

Please do not remove the last island of peace from boorish and inconsiderate cell phone users. It is bad enough that we have to put up with hearing every detail of their business or personal calls prior to take-off and after landing. Even if technology overcomes interference to navigation, cell phone users will still be potential hazards by ignoring crew instructions. ADAMANTLY OPPOSED!